Enhanced liposomal liquid delivery system for optimal benefits

The digestive process can compromise efforts to achieve beneficial vitamin C levels from supplementation. This advanced liposomal form helps protect the vitamin C bonds from degradation that can occur in digestion.

- Delivery system utilizes phosphatidylcholine from non-GMO sunflower oil and tight manufacturing control
- Controlled processing procedure results in very small, highly stable, spherical liposomes
- Small liposomes allow for increased diffusion across mucus membranes and better absorption from the GI tract and into cells
